Attachment to Form 1024, Part II, Item 1

HSUS Fund for Animals (H-Fund) was formed to undertake and support programs designed to enhance and protect the status of animals through education of the public and mobilization of public opinion and through the reform of laws, enactment of remedial legislation, and changes in public policy. H-Fund's goal is to advance social welfare by helping to pass state and federal laws that protect animals from cruelty, suffering, and unnecessary killing and exploitation.

Legislation—H-Fund plans to be an action organization, whose purposes are accomplished through passage of legislation and changes in public policy at the federal, state, and local levels. Approximately seventy-five percent of the organization's time will be devoted to legislative activities, which will include (without limitation) lobbying Congress and state legislatures, conducting advertising campaigns, contributing funds to initiative/referendum campaigns, hiring lobbying consultants, and conducting grassroots outreach through, among other things, direct mail campaigns, email campaigns, H-Fund's website, and the development and distribution of a newsletter for supporters. Legislative priorities for 2005 and the future include (without limitation):

- Mourning Doves: H-Fund will contribute funds to a committee in Michigan that is gathering signatures from Michigan citizens to get an initiative/referendum measure on the state's 2006 ballot that would prohibit the hunting of mourning doves.
- Canned Hunting<sup>1</sup>: H-Fund will lobby Congress in favor of a bill that would ban the interstate transport of exotic animals to be hunted in fenced-in enclosures. At the state level, H-Fund will lobby legislatures in states such as New York and Pennsylvania in support of bills that would ban canned hunting in those states. H-Fund will also oppose a bill in Indiana that would have the effect of placing the canned hunting industry there under the regulatory power of Indiana's department of agriculture and making canned hunting more widespread. Fighting the legislation in Indiana will include asking H-Fund supporters to contact state legislators in opposition to the bill, issuing press releases and op eds to the local media, and possibly hiring a local lobbyist.

<sup>1</sup> Canned hunting operations are private hunting facilities that offer their customers the opportunity to kill nonindigenous and native animals who are held within areas that are entirely enclosed by fences, so the animals ultimately have no escape. The animals killed in canned hunts may come from private breeders, animal dealers, or even zoos. These animals are frequently hand raised and bottle fed, so they have lost their natural fear of people.

- Downed Cattle<sup>2</sup>: In response to the discovery of the first case of mad cow disease in the United States in December, 2003, the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA) promulgated regulations banning the processing of downed cattle for human consumption. There is now a movement in Congress to weaken the ban. H-Fund will work with Congress to keep the ban in place by, among other things, attending committee hearings and urging H-Fund supporters to write to the USDA and to Congress in support of the ban.
- Puppy Mills<sup>3</sup>: H-Fund will lobby in favor of a bill to be introduced by Senator Rick Santorum of Pennsylvania that would allow existing federal law to catch up with current internet technology by subjecting individuals who sell dogs directly to the general public to humane care and handling requirements. H-Fund will urge its supporters to write to their representatives in Congress to support this bill.
- Animal Fighting (such as cockfighting and dogfighting): H-Fund will lobby Congress in support of a bill that would increase penalties for the interstate and foreign shipment of fighting animals, particularly dogs and gamefowl, from a misdemeanor to a felony. At the state level, the organization will lobby the Arizona state legislature in favor of a bill that would make animal fighting a felony and will lobby the New Mexico and Louisiana state legislatures in favor of bills that would ban cockfighting.
- Wild Horses: The 2005 Omnibus Spending Bill recently signed into law by President Bush contained an amendment to the Wild Free-Roaming Horses and Burros Act that has the effect of legalizing the slaughter of wild horses on public lands in the West for the first time since 1971. H-Fund will lobby Congress in support of a bill that would restore the protections of the Wild Free-Roaming Horses and Burros Act.

Fundraising—Although over the near term the H-Fund may devote more time to fundraising activities, once donations become more reliable the organization will devote approximately twenty-five percent of its time to fundraising activities. Funds will be raised through contributions from the general public in response to direct mail campaigns conducted by H-Fund and by commercial fundraisers and in response to H-Fund's website, www.fund.org/home.html. Fundraising activities will also include personal interaction with major donors.

<sup>2</sup> Downed cattle, or "downers," are cattle too sick or injured to stand or walk. Such non-ambulatory animals are routinely pushed, kicked, dragged, and prodded with electric shocks at auctions and intermediate markets to move them along to the slaughterhouse. The problem of downers being bought, sold, transferred, or transported prior to slaughter now carries a threat to consumer health because downed cattle can exhibit symptoms of mad cow disease.

<sup>3</sup> Puppy mills are breeding facilities that produce purebred puppies in large numbers. The puppies are sold either directly to the public via the Internet, newspaper ads, at the mill itself, or are sold to brokers and pet shops across the country. The documented problems of puppy mills include overbreeding, inbreeding, minimal veterinary care, poor quality of food and shelter, lack of socialization with humans, overcrowded cages, and the killing of unwanted animals. To the unwitting consumer, this situation frequently means buying a puppy facing an array of immediate veterinary problems or harboring genetically borne diseases that do not appear until years later.

HSUS Fund for Animals (H-Fund) was formed by individuals who also serve as directors and officers of the public charities The Humane Society of the United States (The HSUS) and The Fund for Animals, Inc. (The FFA). H-Fund will be a self-supporting organization, receiving contributions from the general public. There is no plan for continuing financial support for H-Fund from either The HSUS or The FFA. If necessary, over the near term, The HSUS and The FFA may make short-term loans to H-Fund at market rates of interest. In addition, The HSUS and The FFA may make controlled grants to H-Fund to carry on activities that the public charities themselves could undertake.

H-Fund will share facilities, specifically office space in the District of Columbia, and employees with The HSUS. H-Fund shall pay The HSUS for all direct expenses incurred by The HSUS on H-Fund's behalf, including salaries and fringe benefits for HSUS personnel performing program and fundraising services for H-Fund, travel costs associated with the performance of such services, fees to independent contractors performing services for H-Fund, postage, long-distance telephone charges, printing, and all other actual expenses incurred on behalf of H-Fund. H-Fund shall also pay The HSUS an additional amount to cover overhead costs, including the cost of the office space used, capital purchases of equipment and furniture, premiums for liability and other insurance, and local taxes.

UNRELATED BUSINESS INCOME TAX RETURN

If you receive more than $1,000 annually in gross receipts from a regular trade or business you may be subject to Unrelated Business Income Tax and required to file Form 990-T, Exempt Organization Business Income Tax Return. Special rules for organizations exempt under sections 501(c)(7), (9), (17) and (19) are described in Publication 598.

There are several exceptions to the tax on unrelated business income.

1. Income you receive from the performance of your exempt activity is not unrelated business income.
2. Income from fundraisers conducted by volunteer workers, or where donated merchandise is sold, is not unrelated business income.
3. Income from routine investments such as certificates of deposit, savings accounts, or stock dividends is usually not unrelated business income.

There are special rules for income derived from real estate or other investments purchased with borrowed funds. This income is called "debt financed" income. For additional information regarding unrelated business income tax see Publication 598, Tax on Unrelated Business Income of Exempt Organizations, or call our toll free number shown above.

PUBLIC INSPECTION OF APPLICATION AND INFORMATION RETURN

You are required to make your annual information return, Form 990 or Form 990-EZ, available for public inspection for three years after the later of the due date of the return, or the date the return is filed. You are also required to make available for public inspection your exemption application, any supporting documents, and your exemption letter. Copies of these documents are also required to be provided to any individual upon written or in person request without charge other than reasonable fees for copying and postage. You may fulfill this requirement by placing these documents on the Internet. Penalties may be imposed for failure to comply with these requirements. Additional information is available in Publication 557, Tax-Exempt Status for Your Organization, or you may call our toll free number shown above.

EXCESS BENEFIT TRANSACTIONS
(Applies to 501(c)(4) organizations)

Excess benefit transactions are governed by section 4958 of the Code. Excess benefit transactions involve situations where a section 501(c)(4) organization provides an unreasonable benefit to a person who is in a position to exercise substantial influence over the organization's affairs. If you believe there may be an excess benefit transaction involving your organization, you should report the transaction on Form 990 or Form 990-EZ. Additional information can

EMPLOYMENT TAXES

If you have employees, you are subject to income tax withholding and the social security taxes imposed under the Federal Insurance Contribution Act (FICA). You are required to withhold Federal income tax from your employee's wages and you are required to pay FICA on each employee who is paid more than $100 in wages during a calendar year. To know how much income tax to withhold, you should have a Form W-4, Employee's Withholding Allowance Certificate, on file for each employee.

You are also liable for tax under the Federal Unemployment Tax (FUTA) for each employee you pay $50 or more during a calendar quarter if, during the current or preceding calendar year, you had one or more employees at any time in each of 20 calendar weeks or you paid wages of $1,500 or more in any calendar quarter.

Employment taxes are reported on Form 941, Employer's Quarterly Federal Tax Return. The requirements for withholding, depositing, reporting and paying employment taxes are explained in Circular E, Employer's Tax Guide, (Publication 15), and Employer's Supplemental Tax Guide, (Publication 15-A). These publications explain your tax responsibilities as an employer.

FILING REQUIREMENTS

In your exemption letter we indicated whether you must file Form 990, Return of Organization Exempt From Income Tax. Form 990 (or Form 990-EZ) is filed with the Ogden Submission Processing Center, Ogden UT 84201-0027.

You are required to file a Form 990 only if your gross receipts are normally more than $25,000.

If your gross receipts are normally between $25,000 and $100,000, and your total assets are less than $250,000, you may file Form 990-EZ. If your gross receipts are over $100,000, or your total assets are over $250,000, you must file the complete Form 990. The Form 990 instructions show how to compute your "normal" receipts.

If a return is required, it must be filed by the 15th day of the fifth month after the end of your annual accounting period. There are penalties for failing to timely file a complete return. For additional information on penalties, see Form 990 instructions or call our toll free number.

If your receipts are below $25,000, and we send you a Form 990 Package, follow the instructions in the package on how to complete the limited return to advise us that you are not required to file.

If your exemption letter states that you are not required to file Form 990, you are exempt from these requirements.
